Craig Newman quoted in InsideCounsel article "Waive the Flag: Bank of America case has companies reconsidering what is privileged"

InsideCounsel

December 22, 2009

Richards Kibbe & Orbe partner Craig A. Newman was quoted in the January 1, 2010 edition of InsideCounsel magazine. The article, "Waive the Flag: Bank of America case has companies reconsidering what is privileged," discusses the impact of the attorney-client privilege issues, especially in the context of loan renegotiations and restructurings, raised by Bank of America's takeover of Merrill Lynch. Here Mr. Newman comments on the risks in regard to privilege in certain situations and describes ways in which these risks can be minimized.
